

Chapter Two: EQUAL OUTCOMES

It is so obvious that the USA and its Equal Opportunities Capitalist society has historically and still as of today been an unfair country on practically all fronts. For better or worse, to this point in time only the Mind Blind brand has been able to recognize this without any hesitation. Luckily, the perfect storm of events in 2020 had—in their minds for certain—brought it all into full sight.

A year which will go down in infamy for sure. Especially when it came to whom the non-Power Corrupted Mind Balanced had representing them as President of the USA. All one needed to see was the lingering lack of proof that the opposing Administration had not colluded with Russia or Ukraine, to acknowledge that Leader's penchant for non-stop lying. Simultaneously, that President was obviously and openly sexist and racist according to the mainstream media as they empowered any led by empathy to see and hear it for themselves. Trying to limit immigration at the southern border and banning travel from Muslim-dominated countries were just more clear examples of that Leader's religious-like belief in nationalism and bigotry.

USA 2020 also brought into the mix a 100% mishandled pandemic by that same President that ultimately led to well over a million American deaths, and probably still counting. A President also responsible for unchecked protesting, rioting, looting, and burning in tandem with endless division and historical governmental statue toppling (or at least removal) and private property destruction. All while he was aptly called out as an above the pale evil authoritarian and outright power-drunk dictator.

Simultaneously, the Mind Blind's decades-old pursuit to dominate the USA politically in order to remove the largest barrier to a Progressive Socialist World Order could not have been more obviously forthcoming to its conclusion. There was now almost no significant part of life in the USA that the Mind Blind Elites and assorted power brokers had not dominated with its political presence. Dominated with a capital "D". First it was academia and most cultural institutions, then Hollywood, and next the mainstream media. Professional and collegiate sports one-by-one jumped in from there, some slowly, some practically overnight.

All along, local urban governance in most of the largest USA cities were already nearly 100% pure Mind Blind. Many suburbs followed in hand at least in terms of their respective elementary and high school administrators and assorted teachers' unions. At the National level, practically no entity of the USA's intelligence and law enforcement community was left untouched, that is, most certainly the DOJ, the FBI, the CIA, the DHS, and the CBP, at least at the leadership levels. Weaponizing the IRS against political opponents in the early 2010's was truly just the warmup.

Owning numerous local prosecutors and attorney generals in practically every Mind Blind-led city and state kept so much of it in line when needed. Mind Blind attorneys who in unison all bowed to the righteousness of empathy-only Group Think via the Mind Blind one new world order masters funding it all. Collectively proving the truth that no one individual or group changes the Progressive Socialist party, instead the party changes you and with force if necessary – the fight for justice never sleeps.

Big Brother emerging via Mind Blind-dominated social media giants whose simultaneous dissemination of, or defense against, the right and wrong, respectively, propaganda materials real-time to keep the narrative intact was one of the most strategic moves in the history of politics. Especially setting up the Mind Balanced to express their own opinions only to be often immediately or at least eventually outed as sexist, racist, etc., and worthy of being canceled and/or boycotted out of existence.

The quest for total domination then in turn became more of a reality than ever before via the Mind Blind's collaborative organized mission to control every lever of the Internet itself, wherein most small businesses and their majority Mind Balanced owners rely on to compete and survive. Domain names, hosting servers and interfaces, website builders, and most available email systems were ever more controlled by the Mind Blind powers that be as they gobbled up tech startups literally on the left and right.

Turning all this power into a force to be reckoned with, the Mind Balanced never stood a chance in maintaining their independent lifestyles without significant disruption, especially those clinging to their guns, bible, constitution, and old-school law and order. Never letting a crisis go to waste, the Mind Blind takeover of the USA's CDC as well as the international WHO took governmental control possibilities further than ever before imagined possible. Having the leading epidemiologist in their back pocket did not hurt the power grabs either.

The Mind Blind's strategy of rallying the November 2020 vote in specific Mind Blind-led large cities put the Mind Balanced over the edge with angst. So much so, that they themselves attacked the USA's Capital Building with unleashed rage. A takeover attempt which not only failed on the ground that day but would forever warrant the right of the Mind Blind leaders to cast them as insurrectionists, even domestic terrorists. This then opened the door formally and permanently to surveil, arrest, and even indiscriminately incarcerate any that were deemed to be an internal threat to the USA's fundamentally transforming democracy.

However, the clearest path to eradicating the evils of an Equal Opportunities Capitalist society from which came so many USA Mind Balanced-fostered supremacy abuses, was infiltrating and politicalizing the USA's military through multiple angles. First initiated with affirmative action, then 100% sexual orientation transition funding, followed by the extreme push on diversity, equity and inclusivity training at every level. Of course, COVID-19 vaccination mandates in order to serve not only ejected plenty of Mind Balanced military personal, but also put a strain on those who would otherwise been recruitable.

More explicitly, was the one-by-one rooting out of any who refused to see the wisdom of every Mind Blind policy and goal, especially the re-write of American history. The brilliance of surrounding the Capital building with National Guardsmen was then the icing on the cake for ensuring the Equal Outcomes without Equal Efforts movement could be officially jump started unimpeded.

Even so, the shorter-term solution of gathering a critical mass of Mind Blind-oriented people on the west coast became an obvious necessary evil, for lack of better words. There are just too many Mind Balanced individuals within the borders of the continental USA, especially in the Midwest and South rural areas. That plus taking most freedom-related powers away via the national government from any not yet "demographic replacement readied" Mind Balanced-led states is tough as is. Better to have a clean break up first and start right off the bat with a state-less new country, then to try to make everyone and every state see the errors in their ways.

The strategic maneuvering from there could then entail the USSA retaking territories piece-by-piece from the USA—state by state even—at some point down the road. Certainly, with the huge success stories of Diversity, Inclusivity, and Equity amongst all non-elites in the USSA, many USA states will likely see the light and beg to move over as soon as possible just on their own. The USSA in practically every group setting worth addressing will have perfected the art of creating Diverse groups of Protected Identity Groups (PIG) individuals, from which each PIG will be proportionally Included, to ultimately guarantee Equity, i.e., Equal Outcomes for all non-elites.

The problem remains however—the majority of Mind Balanced cannot be entirely and completely recalibrated overnight. Empathetic-only thinking is only so contagious. A clearer path to a Utopian Mind Blind-controlled world order and dominance is to build an impenetrable mass and spend some time ironing out the remaining kinks. The USA's west coast was practically made for such a mass, some might argue by design. Where the practice of dismantling misguided Mind Balanced individual thinking amongst those who already live there plus any who entered was already being perfected.

The fact that there will still be some scattered Mind Balanced enclaves within the USSA, especially in the former California-controlled territory outside the major Mind Blind-led city centers, is not a bad thing. They can be prime recruitment areas—including for the Port-a-gone—to collect residents for use in perfecting the “Woke” conversion approach. This of course will involve the continuation of redefining facts vs. truth, right vs. wrong, plus good vs. evil. Only then can an all-out Mind Blind global takeover commence.

The USSA—as one who continues reading this manifesto can surmise—will certainly early on retrospectively realize how the breakup into two countries has been the ultimate reward for the decades of planning. Finally, a 100 percent-pure Equal Outcomes without Equal Efforts guided nation on earth where no one must deal with Mind Balanced individual thinking and it perpetually getting in the way of perfecting Group Think for good. So many others have tried unsuccessfully, and now that same repeated failure result will no longer be the case. A nation where one's self-worth and mental well-being will be reinforced every single day based on an endless Victim-Villain cycle within a boundary-less—especially regarding budgets, borders, and birth canals—Equal Outcomes Progressive Socialist society.

USSA or Bust

The leaders who have mastered the art of governance via Victim identity groups and the sure-as-day Villain identity groups oppressing them, can now embrace their own collective identity group label. The Mind Blind label brings everyone under one giant roof together based on what they believe in, i.e., Progressive Socialism. It brings them under one identity as to who they really are, just like every other identity group that has been devised almost exclusively by them historically. Only the Mind Blind, with their empathetical prowess unleashed from any logic-oriented balance, can truly install Equal Outcomes without Equal Efforts, that is, amongst everyone within the non-elites.

As a standalone entity, the USSA will have the chance to once and for all move away from the current USA's systems of oppression. It will create social, economic, racial, and environmental (SERE) Justice for all protected identity group residents. As a result, most non-elite residents will have near Equal Outcomes no matter how hard or little they choose to work. Individual responsibility and accountability will be tossed into the same bin of bad history as the evil patriarchy family unit, non-sensical mathematics, and of course, colonization-oriented sheet music notations, to name just a few. The oppressors will be made obedient while free speech restrictions will shift all power to the Elite where it belongs. Criticism will be crushed overnight. The remaining Mind Balanced will conform or be canceled.

What will life be like in the most Utopian country in the history of the world? Overall, for those individuals lucky enough to reside in the USSA, there will be two overreaching commonalities. In terms of self-reliance, there will be an exceptionally low maintenance Equal Outcomes without Equal Efforts minimum existence like no other time in history. Coupled with the highest non-materialistic standard of living ever afforded the human species. That is, highest relative to every other non-elite individual living there.

Second, not maintaining one's self-well-being will no longer matter—if it ever has in a Progressive Socialist run city. In fact, becoming obese at any age and then maintaining one's obesity will be celebrated as perfectly acceptable throughout the USSA, even the norm. To reinforce this, body-type diversification laws will make it mandatory that any TV show, commercial, movie, publication, beauty contest, and even porn site have its fair proportion of overweight actors, models and participants relative to the general population. Independent of one's weight, health-adverse habits such as excessive overeating, drinking, smoking, not to mention getting high from marijuana daily will never be restricted no matter how much they dampen one's individual productivity and honesty levels in any given week, month, and year.

Thinking in terms of the Spectrum Science, there are several spectrum categories which will benefit the most in such a fair society. Obviously, the pure Mind Blind—no matter where they individually fall on the Sexuality and Class Spectrums—will be the most satisfied living in the USSA as all of their political-oriented policies and programs are now the reality. Beyond that, exactly which subsets of the populace will be the biggest winners in terms of the non-elite private sector, one that is set up to accommodate both long-term locals and those that just arrived from afar? Why of course it will be those who will now be 100% sprung free from any remaining constraints that were in place under the USA's oppressive structurally systemic supremacy-based society.

That is, the Chasees will finally and officially have the full upper hand over the Chasors, as masculinity is put in its place and overtaken by the purest forms of femininity. The 12-percenters and especially its 0-percenters subset will be beyond equalized with the 21-percenters and in so many ways even the 33-percenters especially with the formal recognition of leisure-time lopsidedness advantages. To round things out, it will be the Mind Blown who come full circle in terms of their purposeful place held in a fair and just society.

Historically suppressed Chasees will once and for all rise above the suppression and evil ways of the Chasors and their endless patriarchal rule and societal power reigns. Newfound Chasee protections will not just alleviate past wrongs but also avenge those wrongs, as necessary. Nothing in a Mind Blind-led world is more powerful than not being a masculinity-driven Chasor, especially an at birth heterosexual male. The original and ongoing oppressor of everything and everyone deemed oppressed.

The never-ending Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion movement in the USSA will naturally favor the Chasee side of the Sexuality Spectrum. Especially the furthest left possible in terms of an overabundance of female hormones with all sorts of newly gained protective rights for transgender women. Movements to make up for past oppressive states including having to hide in the closet while suffering from discrimination in the workplace and in many other areas of life. The USA's Mind Blind takedown on lesbian women in terms of women's sports was a long time coming. Masculinity-led Chasor lesbian women had leaped so far up in the USA's 2020s leadership roles and society in general, most if not all remaining victimhood credentials were already pretty much rescinded before the breakup.

However, the number one way to permanently right the inequality ship will be through the introduction of a Basic Unity Income (BUI) of $1,000 per month paid to any who have had sex with and only with a penis as a bottom in the proceeding calendar year, independent of current annual income. An income redistribution scheme which will be funded entirely by the penis-sex-free Chasor population of heterosexual men and lesbian women.

Early on it will become at least somewhat obvious to the Mind Blind that all government-legislated "true infrastructure" projects almost exclusively rely on the myriad of demolition and construction trades, which in turn are 98%-plus Chasors. Since infrastructure legislation will be held as a never-ending priority by the USSA governments, the monthly BUI will punitively make up for all the government-backed high-paying infrastructure jobs going to the Chasors, via a 4% "Unity Tax" on their incomes above $5,000 per month, i.e., $60,000 annually.

What will not have to change from Chasee life under the USA's oppressive patriarchy practices is the expectation of getting one's food, beverage, entertainment, and travel expenses regularly subsidized via indirect pay by the Chasors who adore them. All while the Chasees will forever hold the final say on any first-time consensual sexual encounters. What will be different though is that the Chasee will now formally be free to accept direct pay for sex, which will be a huge win all around for everyone involved. This will only be on an individual-to-individual basis, given the history of predatory-type handlers which are banned indefinitely.

As for the 12-percenters, any lingering USA old school threats of losing one's eligibility for governmental transfers whether it is indirect or direct income transfers will be permanently put down under the Free Stuff Fair Share mandate. So too the fears associated with hiding from the government unreported income or illegal income while receiving said transfers, which will now be an official USSA Societal Right, at least for any in a Protected Identity Group. Their Societal Rights will also include not having any responsibilities especially looking for a job or providing community service such as occasionally picking up the trash on the streets, even their own trash.

And of course, there will never be any restrictions to receiving government transfers month-after-month and year-after-year. No matter under what guise they are provided such as earned income tax credits, targeted basic income, or just old fashion food and/or housing assistance, there will never be any restrictions. And no matter how much they accumulate in total value over time, even in the hundreds of thousands of dollars, zero of which is ever repayable.

No restrictions to drinking alcohol nor using marijuana or other drugs no matter how less productive and honest they make someone. Not to mention no restrictions on having unprotected sex or even actual gambling. From there the list will go on and on and on, and of course will be expanded as needed. This especially includes any and all Mind Blown criminals including organized gang members who in the name of justice, should always have the right to continue being subsidized.

Since all forms of art are essential to distracting away from a standardized way of life within an Equal Outcomes without Equal Efforts society, special treatment of such struggling artists is only fair. These very often 12-percenters who are pursuing projects or are currently actively engaged with the local communities through music, dance, creative writing, visual art, performance art, photography, makeup, theater, and film will finally be officially recognized and explicitly financially supported. Mind Blind politically correct-wise, it also does not hurt that they consist of way more than 50 percent Chaseses, and possibly 90 percent or higher outside of music and film artists.

Such individual residents will be eligible for a separate monthly Basic Artistic Income (BAI) of $1,000 to keep going, pandemic shutdown or not, as long as they report less than $60,000 in annual income during the previous year. No one should be forced to choose between earning income and pursuing their artistic dreams. Since everyone gets to enjoy the productions of said artists, this will be funded by a 1% income tax starting at that same $60,000 annual threshold, but on all taxpayer residents, independent of one's Sexuality Spectrum position.

Another subset which is heavily represented within the 12-percenter position of the Class Spectrum that will also be much better off are those who step up to protest not just for a night or two, but throughout the year and even from town to town. While these often "all expenses paid" travelers need to be on the beckon call for action, many thankfully do not have to be concerned with calling in sick or using any remaining vacation days.

In recognition of the incredibly important role that they play in a fair and just society, they too will be provided monthly income of $1,000 independent of any ongoing pandemic shut down rescue stimulus or "unemployment" payments, with no other current income questions asked. An explicit 0.1 percent tax (vs. mandatory deductible "voluntary" direct donations like in the USA circa 2020) on large Corporation global profits will be more than enough to cover this worthy expenditure.

But probably the best better-off category within the Spectrum Science will hands down be the Mind Blown. As all forms of prior USA law enforcement are defunded and then whittled down to practically nothing, criminal and/or drug abuse life will bring about many more freedoms which together translate into one rarely if ever facing consequences for their actions. Arrests in general, issuing warrants, as well arrest records for such individuals will all be deemed obsolete. Recognizing the evils inherent within the USA's myriad of law enforcement organizations and self-adopted rules of conduct, most if not all will be diminished if not eliminated for good.

The USSA will certainly take things further than any other country with its National "peace keeping" force named for what it truly represents, the Justice Enforcement Rangers (JERs). Yes, there will no longer be a need to hold back. No need to fake that there is equal protection under the same set of laws. This all starts with an unbridled transparency on an eyes-wide-open border policy in overlooking drug smuggling and human trafficking while not just releasing but no longer even catching stolen property and/or bodily harm perpetrators. And just like in the USA circa 2020, bail reform will translate into no bail and zero such perpetrators sitting in a jail cell for more than a day or two, tops.

However, it will be the disarming (no handguns, tasers, or even batons) along with dis-armoring (no helmet or vests) of the JERs that will really excel the growth in the Mind Blown ranks within the USSA. All matched with restrictions on arrests guided by the latest SERE Justice initiatives and victimized Protected Identity Groups, for certain the Mind Blown ranks will surely blossom. This includes the banning of chokeholds, handcuffs, and reading someone their rights, especially since the latter will no longer serve a purpose.

Real time body cams linked directly to the nationally controlled but locally run JER Command Centers will provide for on-the-spot instruction on which opposing parties should be protected in any type of conflict. As a failsafe, all JERs will only be trained to do whatever the person under arrest says to do if from a Protected Identity Group, including letting them go. It is all about that Mind Blown individual's respect and dignity, no matter what they might be possibly guilty of doing.

On behalf of the Mind Blind concerns with apprehension-related brutality of the Mind Blown, each JER will be restrained and retrained, as necessary. They will be held accountable for just the slightest misconduct and assumed 100% to blame at the get go of any allegations. Qualified immunity will only be for the politicians and district attorneys calling the shots, period. Bottom line, the perps and not the JERs are the ones whose rights will count the most.

Even the most dedicated Rangers will feel the pressure to pull back given the greater risk of their own bodily harm vs. being sued, fired, or prosecuted for doing their job. It will prove too costly to not get the underlying justice hierarchy right the first and every time around. The MSM, now officially named the Mainstream State Media (MSSM), will be right there to eliminate due process the second after any JER-involved adverse outcome incident for a Protected Identity Group is discovered.

The perfect storm behind justice enforcement will once and for all keep crime numbers down. Simply slow down responding; once there do not engage much; and then forgot about pursuing especially since all forms were now illegal, including while on foot, with K-9's, and/or on electric-powered mopeds. When paired with the self-stifling MSSM reporting on local criminal activity, the results will be nothing short of miraculous in terms of record low crime statistics not to mention prison populations compared to anywhere else in the world. A major key to this is making each JER feel that their efforts to solve crimes or protect the public are basically in vain.

Further, being a Mind Blown addict to hard core drugs is only due to the inherent threat of self-reliance and self-well-being accountability under the pressures of an oppressive Equal Opportunities Capitalist society, now fully in the rearview mirror. In the USSA's Equal Outcomes Progressive Socialist society, drug addictions will be thought of as they should have always been, that is, just another way to live life responsibility-free.

Legalizing every aspect of the gateway drug marijuana will no doubt grow the Mind Blown population in perpetuity. With a no-holds-bar approach to the unhoused, count on these often already Mind Blown individuals joining those ranks, despite all the responsibility-free housing options presented by the USSA governments. All bad actors who commit crimes whether unhoused or not will simply continue to support the USA circa 2020's trend of turning the bad guy into the victim, especially if part of a Protected Identity Group.

While there will not be an official direct monthly payment, the Mind Blown will perhaps have it even better financially. Anything of value that they steal up to a daily per store/event limit of $950 (indexed), will remain non-reportable and thus tax free. This will be a natural evolving extension of the original USA's completely ignored stance wherein criminals are rarely forced to return or pay back what they stole. This will incentivize even more criminal activities which will be a big bolster to wealth redistribution efforts without much of any Government involvement or effort, which for once in this case, is a good thing as per the Mind Blind powers that be.

Outside these specific spectrum categories, some of the biggest winners in the USSA will be found in the public sector or at least public eye. That is, the National and Local career politicians and select bureaucrats; government employees now completely dominated by the teachers' union; as well as their collective lapdog MSSM supporters.

Redistributing income and wealth from non-elite but still privileged high-earner households to all the not-privileged Protected Identity Groups is really the only reason for a Progressive Socialist government to exist. Well, before factoring in the concern of keeping the political leaders at Elite-deserving levels of wealth. After all, if it were not for them, the oppressed victim masses would forever be oppressed while still living in the original USA. This then leads to what life will be like for the official political leaders and select bureaucrats (cabinet members; ambassadors; school boards; regulators; and assorted cronies) at the National BOSS and local mayor and CCC levels of the USSA government.

It will be just that much easier to be a political leader or select bureaucrat, whether power corrupted or not. And that's not even counting how living off the taxpayers on top of political contributions is practically painless. With no more budgetary boundaries, offering free stuff will turn voting solicitation and electioneering into more of a "show-off" art form than something to hide and deny. With no more transparency, justification and/or accountability requirements under one-party rule, pushing through the Progressive Socialist agenda, the sky will not even be the limit. All while the pressure of adding states, court packing, or not appearing to give immigrants and refugees voting rights under ID-free elections pretty much go away just like that under one-state one-country BOSS rule.

The USSA one-party ruled government will provide an endless chance to raise one's political self-worth score by passing into law and then enforcing even more taxes, rules, and regulations. All while dealing out favors to one's top political contributors and favored constituents. No more need for deceptive tactics especially with the funding of bloated government employee perks and pensions. That is, the government employees who regularly contribute near 100% to just one party even before the breakup.

There are certainly many aspects to one's respective Mind Brand's political worldview beliefs. Especially on building individual wealth—including the wealth of one's family members and friends—while in office; covering one's tracks on how it was possible to accumulate said-wealth while only earning a government salary; and to keep other countries' interest enough to continue to "invest" in oneself. One just needs to continually shore up one's Mind Blind credentials.

For example, one must always fully embrace how crises should never be let to go to waste. That any hoaxes which protect against the Mind Balanced taking back and/or maintaining political power are all worth what price is charged by whomever. Repeating the same exact coordinated talking points have already proven to be so powerful in grabbing power away from the Mind Balanced in the USA. All while not just deflecting off an issue, but not even holding a press conference nor making an in-person assessment on say, current border conditions. Making sure one's big-time donors are rewarded handsomely is also key especially in the form of more government subsidization towards that donor's causes, green energy products, and/or a new sports stadium.

Silencing any potential Mind Balanced emerging threats in the USSA will be the correct way to keep such individual thinkers in check indefinitely. Between pandemic rescues to infinite infrastructure jobs acts to all sorts of loan forgiveness programs, everything ever imagined for guaranteeing Equal Outcomes without Equal Efforts can be implemented without the threat of being judicially overturned or revised. Extended unemployment; unlimited stimulus checks, eviction moratoriums in perpetuity; paid leave; childcare; caregiving; universal basic income; and even reparations, a good portion of which can and will be doled out by the local City Center Councils after they take their well-deserved cut.

Of course, the USSA's one-party government will still rely heavily on the public employee strength-in-numbers. Certainly, there are many public employee unions that have supported the Mind Blind politicians over the years given the latter's penchant for taking care of the former's ever-increasing thirst for more compensation for less work. However, no one is better positioned for keeping the indoctrination train going than the Teacher's Union. That is, to keep systemic Brand-ism in place from wherein Mind Blind Supremacy, or informally "Woke Supremacy," will make all perceived inequality go away, for every disadvantaged community and Protected Identity Group.

Yes, an economy that works for all, even those abled-bodied humans who choose not to work; public safety that keeps everyone safe, even those assaulting, resisting arrest, stealing, looting, and burning, no matter even if career criminals; free housing and healthcare without any self-maintenance responsibilities; and free unlimited meals no matter how unfit one chooses to be.

As for the teachers themselves, never again will the threat of private school vouchers get in their way. And just like in the USA's early 2020s, whatever social or economic issue the Teachers Union decides to harp on, everyone will need to heed their vision. This includes free and unlimited health care, with priority care to the disadvantaged—especially when it comes to vaccinations—once all Teachers have received theirs. Further, no one will dare challenge the Teachers' solidarity position on how voter ID requirements are without merit for obvious—to the Teachers Union Leadership at least—numerous reasons.

There will of course never be a need for Education Reform in the USSA. While the USA's Mind Balanced continue their relentless push for Education Reform measures such as private charter schools, teaching actual history, and encouraging mathematics, the Mind Blind can finally and officially 100-percent ignore these issues and every single other perceived education-related issue left behind in the USA. Mind Balanced ignorance of the science behind every social and economic disparity issue will be silenced once and for all. Especially their non-stop bigoted push back against the 100% Mind Blind-certified teaching of Critical Race Theory and alternative sexual lifestyles to children as young as 3 years of age.

No one, especially parents, should tell a teacher how to do their job. Teachers will be even more powerful and so much better off in the USSA that even they will find it hard to believe. The ultimate mission to capture education for themselves and use it as a propaganda and indoctrination tool will have formerly crossed the final finish line. They will be at the core of controlling not just their government salaries and lavish benefits, but the mind strings of every developing child in the country. It is all about what to think vs. how to think.

As the Mind Blind-guided teachers know best, it really comes down to “community” investment and never direct investment in any one individual and respective character since that would be unfairly isolating expectations. Further, Social Controlling in the USA wrongly put substantial resources into police, prisons, surveillance, immigration enforcement and the military, and failed miserably. Their purpose all along was to utilize fear, punishment, and violence, that is, to dishonestly maintain what they considered law and order.

Social Investment, i.e., community investment-oriented societies put more if not all resources into education, housing, healthcare, unemployment benefits, and vehicles such as pre-K and childcare to raise children. Of course, all of these foundational goals will be advertised as having one purpose—to free people from the risks and anxieties of daily life and give everyone a fair shot at living responsibility-free while needing zero self-efforts to avoid falling into poverty, even when declining to work ever for an honest living.

In the USSA, the BOSS-backed Mainstream State Media (MSSM) organizations will be in an even more influential position than ever thought possible while the USA was still intact. For sure, the USA’s 2020 will be remembered as the year those reporting the news regularly became the news or at least helped shape the news. While it was exciting to mock them all the time, the USSA’s broadcast ban on any Mind Balanced and/or Mind Blasted journalists and commentators will unfortunately no longer permit replaying any of it.

In its place though, the self-proclaimed journalists in the USSA will justifiably be empowered to once and for all consider just one side of a particular story in order to determine the truth, and that same side every time.

Further, Must-Trust fact checkers will not just fact check what has already taken place but will also be relied on to fact check someone's opinion on what might take place in the future. Talk show hosts and their guests simply talking around the problem will keep the masses drawn in while keeping any troublesome glimpses of reality below the radar.

Maintaining a Group Think populace relies on deflection at all turns. Allowing true debate will be a practice from the past, one that is no longer needed within a one-party controlled Group Think-managed society. As necessary, circular sourcing to any newsworthy stories will be not just the norm, but mandatory, no matter the uncertainty and reliability of the original source. No doubt, once standard journalism was officially dismissed as too much effort in considering both sides of a story or event, Mind Blind-led MSSM lapdog-ism became the perfect way to bring society from capitalism to socialism in the most effective path and time frame possible.

The MSSM is the perfect controllable conduit—especially for those who still cling to their TVs—to the non-elites for delivering narratives between polls, benchmarks, and statistics that are made up based on one's own interpretations. A dedicated and loyal industrial complex wherein one never has the urge or feels the need to consider denominators, and certainly not trade-offs. The perfect way to drive an Equal Outcomes without Equal Efforts society is to ignore all costs to any related benefits, no matter how small said benefits are while brushing aside concerns or even complaints of hypocrisy or just good old fashion double standards.

Whatever it is that the Progressive Socialist party in charge of the USSA wants to accomplish, the MSSM can unwarily get behind it overnight and even the night before. It is all about making sure that facts do not impede the truths underlying the current narratives. Data can and will be massaged for any purpose. Statistics will either be suppressed or publicized depending on their usefulness to the latest Woke movements. Inflammatory headline games will continue to not just earn clicks, but to mislead, as necessary. Not to mention it will finally be recognized as the official new normal to ignore all wrongdoing by Protected Identity Groups, that is, if such wrongdoing cannot be passed off to a non-protected identity group.

None of the above compares though to clamoring to cover the Elites and their extravagant lifestyles. In fact, the highest level of self-worth scoring will be achieved by interviewing the Elites who despite their position in society, are feeling deeply sorry for themselves as they too have become Victims. Especially when it comes to those who might not agree or who might even directly or just indirectly criticize them and their newfound political positions. Nothing short of censorship is commanded to fight such evil. After all, to disagree with an Elite is to hurt them and obviously hate-directed speech violence. For many Elites, especially celebrities, their self-defined truth is their power and the Mind Blind lapdog MSSM know it.

Four specific subsets of society that will not really change within the new USSA compared to the USA are to be expected given how untouchable they already were. All who in one way or another instinctively know when and how to bow to the new USSA BOSS, who was pretty much the same as the old Progressive Socialist party bosses in the USA. Certainly, in no particular order, all subsets are critical to keeping an Equal Outcomes Progressive Socialist society going strong.

Maintaining one's Elite status will always be key within a complete Progressive Socialist takeover, especially with the MSSM as well as the Social Media giants on one's side, of course leading the way to even more riches. Then naturally all government contractors, lobbyists, and research grantees will continue to flourish as they always have. As for running a political not-for-profit for Mind Blind causes or belonging to one of its related activist organizations will naturally continue to help pay the bills and then some, even more than one mortgage at a time. Finally, being a newcomer immigrant or refugee will keep growing in importance and even better treatment upon arrival.

The Elite, who always have lived by a completely different set of rules, will simply continue with their power grabs just like they were before the breakup. Whether one's Elite status is tied to banking, retail, social media, technology, etc. nothing will get in the way such as the threat of corporate liability or antitrust matters. As for the Elite found within the entertainment businesses especially professional sports, any hypocrisy or double standards when it comes to fellow communist countries such as China's human rights violations will never matter. And despite all the Mind Blind-led rhetoric towards the end of the USA's breakup on nailing the rich with more taxes, there will still be plenty of loopholes for the Elite to enable their extravagant lifestyles to continue as is.

Likewise, government contractors, lobbyists, and grantees will continue to get direct access to their Mind Blind counterparts running the government and controlling the purchasing and research funding strings. No questions asked, especially during any pandemic shutdowns or border surges. Mind Blind politician's family members, former colleagues, or just recent acquaintances can go all in under strictly no-bid scenarios. Requiring bids on government-funded projects was just another “competitive” capitalistic-minded rule that also was left behind in the USA.

Not-for-profits including community- and social justice-related organizations will continue unabated with running their finances securely under a complex web of cash flows via multiple for-profit and non-profit loosely associated entities. Whether it is direct governmental funding, self-induced corporate donations, or individual contributions big and small, they will never again need to watch their backs. In reciprocation, such regular campaign donating corporations and individuals will continue to be guaranteed protection from any nationwide boycotts. Vandalism, looting, and burning however, not so much at least during the next wave of mostly peaceful protesting.

Then of course there are the newcomer immigrants and refugees. At one time in the USA, it was the immigrants and refugees that had to work hard to become citizens and have success. But with the Mind Blind controlling so many levers of power, it transitioned to the citizens have to work hard to ensure immigrants and refugees can become citizens and have success. The USSA will be no different because it is the humane and political advantageous thing to do. The unimpeded no-cost entry and then ID- and background check-free newcomer distribution across the USSA will all be worth the time and cost for the USSA’s taxpayers given how no City Center will be left dry from the potential of such new and noble neighbors.

In summary about life in the USSA overall, no longer will the Mind Blind Group Thinkers have to stay silent about the only known way to guarantee an Equal Outcomes without Equal Efforts-based society. It must be flexible and fluid enough for rewarding irresponsible behaviors while as necessary punishing responsible behaviors. So many life examples abound at the individual level: taking out college loans and then not paying them vs paying them; taking on mortgages whose obligations are above one’s head vs. affordable; having more children when one cannot vs. can afford them; saving for one’s future while doing without vs. splurging and hardly saving at all.

No one should have to rely on talent, hard work, intelligence, or staying fit to make it in the USSA. In the same vein, no one should have to take responsibility for affording their own and their children’s lifestyle. There should never be any limits on what income transfers are spent on, especially any that are redistributed based on the number of young children being raised in a particular household.

Meanwhile, anyone who works hard year after year should not be expecting to keep their increasing annual gross income and accumulated wealth while there are those who cannot achieve the same success, no matter the reason and whatever trade-offs were/are involved. This especially includes the government taxing away at high-income earners; high savers; and those who accumulate valuable property assets throughout their lives via a lot of personal time and money investments.

They too will need to understand that instead of their direct family and friends sharing in one's individual financial success while one is alive and inheriting what is left over after one's death, the USSA government should and will be the primary beneficiary. There is no other way for Big Government to be there from cradle to grave without such resources to put towards funding the Equal Outcomes without Equal Efforts lifestyles of the non-elites. This is where the Progressive Socialist World Order's eventual elimination of non-elite private property ownership will really begin to accelerate.

It really comes down to managing all non-elites to a Lowest Quality Outcome (LQO) for certain critical pillars of a society, i.e., security, academics, prosperity, and perversion, or SAPP for short. It starts with acknowledging and accepting the role of society's criminal element and how one's own security should take a back seat. Second, merit-based academics cannot be allowed to exist in any way, shape, or form, period. Prosperity in terms of profits and property ownership can only be water downed in an LQO society. A fourth pillar then ties to no boundaries on sexuality, drug use, and obesity perversions. In simple terms, it is all about lowering expectations while redefining how a society views and measures success.

It is impossible to create Equal Outcomes by trying to raise the less or non-productive to higher levels. It can only be accomplished by knocking down those who have excelled or, much more efficient, to stop anyone from excelling in the first place. This necessitates a non-elite populace that is constantly refreshed with government-fed arrogance, entitlement, intolerance, obsession, and underachievement. From there on out known as the vowels (a-e-i-o-u) of state-supported Victimhood. None of which was ever going to be ultimately maintainable under the USA's Equal Opportunities Capitalist society especially with the individualistic and absolute Bill of Rights forever in place.

Bottom line – there will no longer be any demands of individual responsibility or accountability. Something to tout as loud and clear as possible, so that those who still yearn for Equal Opportunities Capitalism can reverse course more comfortably. It will be easy since even after building a business or career over years or even decades, their individual self-worth return will be all that will matter. Knowing that every night they go to sleep, everyone at the non-elite level is that much closer to equal.

Rights Reimagined

The Mind Blind are on the “right side of history”, and they know it. There have been many reasons why this is true, a big part of which is how many wrongs against Victims are ultimately with persistence turned around to permanent Societal Rights due to the Mind Blind’s collective efforts. Rights to ensure social, economic, racial, and environmental (SERE) justice. Brilliant phrases such as “You didn’t build that”; “Hope and Change”; “It comes a time when you have made too much money” and many more were the decipherable warning shots for the ensuing battle of the Mind Brands.

Of all the initiatives undertaken, it was the brilliance of putting the disadvantaged, marginalized, underprivileged, underserved, vulnerable, etc. communities in their entirety first over everything and everyone else on an individual basis. From this emerged a huge patchwork coalition of Protected Identity Groups who were loosely strung together in terms of historical Victimhood status.

As for the Villain side, the three “S” words were really all that was needed - Systemic, Structural, and/or Supremacy. Whether used as a noun, verb, adjective, or adverb, they are all equally effective. Especially when used in tandem, it was probably the number one weapon that broke up the wicked monopoly of individual self-reliance and self-well-being as an integral part of the USA’s societal fabric.

The essential beauty of pure Mind Blind Group Think is that one is empowered by being so blinded by one’s passion that they alone can “see” things that perhaps do not fully exist but matter while avoiding distractions on what really might matter. To do otherwise would jeopardize any one Mind Blind individual’s potential reoccurrence of individual thoughts and critical thinking.

Now emboldened like any other time before, drafting from scratch the USSA’s Societal Rights Doctrine will certainly go big. So big, it will necessitate three distinct parts. Part 1 will cover Protected Identity Group Rights while Part 2 will necessarily cover Non-protected Identity Group Anti-Rights. Part 3, BOSS Rights, will then complete the Societal Rights Doctrine. Unlike the USA’s awful Bill of Rights that give individuals and respective states protections from the National government, the three distinct parts of the USSA’s Societal Rights Doctrine will put Victimized groups first while putting Villainous groups last, with BOSS rights overruling all identity groups’ rights—protected rights or non-protected anti-rights—as necessary. Rights which emulate the BOSS's well-earned and focused powers to control society and by default, its people.

Like every other Progressive Socialist initiative, catchy phrases will be formally deployed and embraced in recognition of SERE Justice. For Social Justice, it is all about People over Property. Such Property that includes cash and credit cards on one's person or even in one's safe at home all the way through to one's privately owned moped and/or one's house itself. For Economic Justice, it then follows that it is People over Profit. There is never a concern for how much Big Government can intervene in the spirit of income redistribution with any one small business or high-earner individual from keeping even half of what they have legally earned in any given calendar year.

Even more powerful for Racial Justice, it is all about People over Police. This phrase will continue to remind those who once were exposed to the USA's awful local law enforcement militarized operations and tactics that none of it will ever be a part of the USSA's culture. Especially since all variations on policing were abolished in favor of unarmed Justice Enforcement Rangers. And then without irony, all three baseline "People over (fill in the blank)" phrases will be kept in check with the necessarily overarching Environmental Justice enforcement phrase Planet over People. No non-elite individual should ever have the right to use fossil fuels no matter the cost impact of government-dictated energy alternatives, nor to eat meat, and/or forever freely reproduce, to name just a few.

The USSA's BOSS as the ultimate rules' maker will enlist the local CCC governments as the enforcers of the Societal Rights Doctrine, with any refereeing deferred back to the BOSS. Finally, protections for the underserved people against all the undeserving people will be officially in writing. Further, the notion that protections and rights are needed for the populace against its own government is hogwash, not to mention such rights supposedly being absolute. Without hesitation, every Mind Blind individual residing in the original USA had known this for decades. As such, the basis for the upcoming Part 1 rights and Part 2 anti-rights will be fluid in meaning and overnight amendable under Part 3 rights unlike under the horrible USA's constitution. Part 1 of the USSA's ultimate politically correct Societal Rights Doctrine could not be any more obvious in terms of virtue signaling and justice. After so many decades and in some cases centuries of abuse, today's currently recognized Protected Identity Groups deserve each of the following rights, shaped by what only Mind Blind Group Think could devise. So well devised, that they do not need any further introduction nor explanation.

Part 1: Protected Identity Group Rights

Right 1: To be offended by any word, thought, position, or action without explanation, and then to cancel and/or boycott overnight the offensive individual, and at the minimum, their immediate family members plus privately own businesses.

Right 2: To interrupt, protest, deface, vandalize, loot, and/or burn down anything one needs to of any other individual's and/or the Government's, at any moment, day, or night, and without permission or permit.

Right 3: To demand any share of another individual's time, money, property, and prosperity, including squatting in perpetuity.

Right 4: To roam about unhoused in the community or set up camp in an unoccupied facility or property of one's choice while reserving the right to use drugs, regularly defecate, and randomly masturbate in between milling around throughout the day and/or evening unimpeded.

Right 5: To resist arrest, to strike an unarmed Justice Enforcement Ranger; to sue them; to decline to be caged in any way, shape, or form; and to freely partake in gangs locally, nationally, and/or internationally.

Right 6: To all and any level of food, education, technology, childcare, clothing, housing, as well as health care ahead of the non-protected identity groups including 100% funded abortions up to the day of first words, all without any restrictions on one's lifestyle, not looking for additional work or work in general plus never reporting income above the eligibility thresholds.

Of course, every individual belongs to at least one identity group making identity politics the key and ultimate foundation for running the greatest Equal Outcomes Progressive Socialist society ever formed. As has been over time in the USA, the latest Protected Identity Groups will be fluid. Therefore, the above rights are in fact absolute, but only if one's identity group is still in protected status.

When it comes to Societal Rights for PIGs under a DIE-driven system, keeping track of the latest identity group hierarchy is a critical part of their enforcement. During the USA's early 2020s, the hierarchy at any given moment or event became increasingly fluid, especially in conflicts involving individuals who sit within multiple PIGs. With the formation of the USSA, the door was finally wide open to full transparency on the current criteria for such determinations. It was and will always be tied to some combination of human conditions, censorship, and casualties, otherwise destined to be referred to as the “three C’s of Injustice”, whether tied to the past, the present, or both.

First it is about perceived historical conditions any one collective PIG has been through in terms of pain and suffering via the various forms of historical oppressions. This is the case even if said individual or group of individuals have never personally endured such conditions. Next, it is about how much societal censorship a particular PIG has historically endured due to their sexuality and/or criminality. A third and potentially overarching determinant of Victimhood status is how one’s PIG in its entirety suffered or might suffer emotional and even physical casualties at the hands of Villainous non-PIGS.

There will also be plenty of informal societal rights bestowed on any one PIG, who is hands down—as previously predicted—more equal than the non-PIGS. Rights such as discarding trash on the street including one’s cigarette butts even with an available trash can nearby. Using curse or even the N-word. Running stop signs, jaywalking, and riding one’s bike in the wrong direction or even on the sidewalk are all fair game activities. Smoking weed anywhere outdoors including while walking, no matter how many others must breathe it all in. Of course, using one’s speaker phone or just watching videos with the audio blasting on public transportation are government-supported informal PIG rights as well.

No matter which identity groups are protected at a certain point in time, such Societal Rights in one way or another usually reduce or even eliminate the Societal Rights of others, especially those from within non-Protected Identity Groups. Many such non-PIG individuals are those who think that they can do without government transfers and view such cradle-to-grave transfers as a morale buster vs. builder or booster. Further, they still insist that one’s character is what it all comes down to vs. one’s identity group. Such typical individual thinking leaves a Fair Share Free Stuff Mandate-buoyed society no choice but to take a stand which then naturally gives rise to the following “finally formal” non-PIG anti-rights.

Part 2: Non-protected Identity Group Anti-Rights

Anti-right 1: To use language or express views which are considered politically incorrect, especially designated racial slurs or expressing dissent of others’ activities.

Anti-right 2: To any claims that one has built their own business, especially through hard work, patience, and focus or to be guaranteed to keep any portion of what one has legally earned.

Anti-right 3: To a fair trial and the presumption of innocence until proven guilty nor to a safe and secure existence under a lawful and orderly society.

Anti-right 4: To a choice of one's child's education content and advanced learning, or to work at an employer or run a privately owned small business without mandatory diversity, inclusivity and equity training.

Anti-right 5: To any type of self-defense of one's life and/or livelihood, family member, home or neighborhood including private firearm ownership, firearm brandishing, and/or firearm engagement.

Anti-right 6: To decline any mask and/or vaccine mandate or defy any BOSS-dictated curfews and/or full or partial shutdowns.

In combination, Parts 1 and 2 will guarantee that the USA's ongoing cycles of violence against hieratically favored PIGs and the continuous abuse of their respective civil rights will be left behind for good in the USA. Even so, there are many other reasons and ways to take away rights, but they will be informally enforced. No "why" or rationale is needed. Anyone that asks about it, can simply be fired, or canceled, or even worse.

Many unwritten but still controlling rules will of course continue. Such as one cannot appropriate, especially portraying a transgender character. One cannot comment on those who live off the government. One cannot expect to walk down a city block without inhaling the smell of weed or getting hit by a stray bullet.

The key really is to turn Maker privilege around into Taker privilege while placing the latter on a pedestal. The USSA governments will state with pride how vulnerable community residents can wear high-end sneakers; obtain unlimited tattoos and piercings; get nails painted every week and hair styling and coloring as often as needed; smoke weed at any time day or night; etc. All despite having their Food, Education, Technology, Childcare, plus Housing and Healthcare (FETCH²) subsidized for life if they so choose and can manage to remain within a still at the moment designated PIG.

In the USSA, there will no longer be a need to hide the truth about Progressive Socialism's goals and therefore even bolder phrases will materialize towards tipping the Scales of Justice. First, there is Propaganda over People in terms of the role the MSSM plays to keep the narratives going. Then to keep it all in line, there is naturally Panic over People in terms of pandemics and climate catastrophe existential threats. Perps over People of course reflects the role that the Mind Blown play in an Equal Outcomes without Equal Efforts society.

Behind it all, Politicos over People will be reserved for the lifetime politicians and grand Elites, there to override the first three, similarly to Planet over People overriding People over Profits, Property, and Police. As such, the Part 3: BOSS Rights should all be familiar given how they perfectly mirror the unspoken Federal and certain state government rights devised in the USA circa the early 2020s:

Part 3: BOSS Rights

BOSS Right 1: To shut down any speech or protest for any reason or purpose.

BOSS Right 2: To make defenseless any resident of its choice for any reason.

BOSS Right 3: To detain or cancel or suspend any individual without due process, in addition to pursuing criminal punishment and unlimited incarceration.

BOSS Right 4: To confiscate any percent of wealth or possession of value from any individual or group of individuals and to keep and/or redistribute to any other groups, in addition to enforcing without explanation or warning any confiscatory percentage of legally earned income in any calendar year.

BOSS Right 5: To raid and/or shut down any place of business, home, or worship, etc.

BOSS Right 6: To install and enforce curfews, travel restrictions, and/or lockdowns with or without proof of the root causes underlying any one or set of immediate and/or longer-term crises.

Part 3 will serve many purposes. First, the term “government overreach” will finally be accepted as a huge positive or else. Second, it will permanently lock in the notion for the USSA’s residents on just how powerful the BOSS really is. In the USA 2020, many mistakenly forged beliefs that their freedoms under the Bill of Rights came first before any prolonged pandemic-related shutdown orders. This in turn put so many more lives at jeopardy due to such individual thoughts and demands. Just another example of the USA’s inherent individual selfishness and greed.

A third purpose is that any lingering demands for transparency and freedom of information will be buried for good. This is especially the case for any real facts being properly and timely shared for the latest pandemic variant or even just explanations for why a particular vaccine is needed and just how effective it is. Further, debates and details on where newcomer immigrants and refugees are being relocated and for exactly what cost will be squashed at every turn as none of anyone's business.

As always, the BOSS will dictate many other controls including forcing the City Center Council's (CCC's) to all tax at the same rates and in the same manner, so that residents are not tempted to move just because of local taxation differences. Not immediately implementing the same COVID-19 restrictions was a huge issue as well in the USA. Way too many Mind-Balanced-led states—especially those who maintain low or even zero state income taxes—got in the way by choosing a balanced approach with managing the economy and keeping people safe. All while giving individuals a choice on whether vaxxing was right for them, especially if one naturally carries that virus' antibodies.

The BOSS will rely on the federal agencies which really made a difference in fine tuning the Progressive Socialist brand including the DOJ, FBI, CIA, and NSA. The same department names will be continued given how much fear they are capable of instilling in any of the remaining Mind Balanced. The Mind Blind certainly put such agencies to the test of tipping the scales of justice between the non-PIGs vs. the PIGs, while further strengthening the Elite.

6 AM raids under the eye of the MSSM and the perp walks that followed made it clear that no one was safe. This will be the same in the USSA where no one who tries to get in the way of the Societal Rights Doctrine will stand a chance. Minor infractions with huge fines or just unprovable allegations with a never-ending investigation will keep everyone in order.

When the remaining middle class small business owners need a reminder on who is Boss, more regulations and rules can be devised. Of course, there is always the Port-a-gone to make personal aspiration corrections as needed. Secretly used to crush non-conforming political ideologues inevitably to implement and maintain SERE Justice, it is all about stopping disinformation campaigns and conspiracy theories in their tracks.

For the real wrong doings by those who refuse to see the light of Mind Blindness, the invisible headquarters of the Port-a-gone will further manage things from there. While never officially named, the mysterious Porties will be the ultimate Big Brother eyes and ears of the BOSS government. Part human-driven and part machine-driven, they will be there to address any opposition.

An especially important part of any Equal Outcomes Progressive Socialist society, indeed.

To further strengthen the USSA's mission of Equal Outcomes without Equal Efforts for all non-elites, a combination of government and private sector funding will create an army of Mind Blind Monitors (MBM's) under direct supervision of the BOSS which will be tasked with three specific responsibilities. The MBM's will be the answer to the USA's contemplated physical door-to-door techniques as well as the virtual any-door-to-any-door surveillance that was already relying on social media as well as human snitches via cell phones.

MBM's will be split into three divisions tied to either the past, present, or future, with the overriding goal of maintaining the necessary narratives to keep the BOSS in control. This will continue to be driven by division of the populace where and when necessary, while rooting out any remaining conspiracy theorists and/or individual thinkers. The goal would be to only resort to fear, intimidation, and/or violence as a last but obviously very effective measure for silencing any remaining opposition.

The MBM PAST Division will strive to take whatever steps are necessary to adjust the facts about history to fit the approved narratives for the present. The MBM PRESENT Division will mainly rely on fiction as needed—even daily. The MBM FUTURE Division will ensure that progress is made towards diversity, inclusivity, and equity (i.e., the DIE movement), even if it calls for never recognizing any Justice goals already achieved and then some.

Underlying all the above will always be a one-strike you are canceled policy for the non-PIGs. Whether a residents' Villain sin happened sometime since their birth year, within the present, or is anticipated for the future, all prior good faith deeds will be immediately canceled. No matter if the politically incorrect latest norms did not exist then, now, or ever will.

The USSA's MBMs will naturally also be expected to focus time on both real and perceived inequities across the USSA's various socio-economic systems. A mandatory numerators-only analysis methodology will ensure that no inequity stone is left unturned. To guarantee this though, any and all forms of benefits vs. costs analyses will be banned for good. No competitive part of life will be considered safe, given how unequal outcomes are impossible to avoid since for every winner there is a corresponding loser (even multiple) who is created, through no fault of their own. Such a fool-proof monitoring system will be certain to crush any remaining or possible reemerging competitive instincts of the non-elites at any given time it might rear its ugly head.
